Solving the Vital Questions---Nervousness Still Existing.

By cable to the NEWS.

LONDON, May 10.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times, commenting on the hopes of peace, revived by Count Schouvaloff's expected arrival at St. Petersburg, and the increased friendly character of the pour parlers, says: "Notwithstanding a way out of the difficulty seems at last to have been found, the egress is neither short nor easy. It is, after all, nothing more or less than solving the most vital questions—that is doing, in a great measure, the work of the Congress itself. A certain nervousness therefore exists, it being instinctively felt that the present may possibly be the last effort to arrive at a pacific solution. The pending pour parlers no longer relate to the formula for the Congress, but to the merits of the settlement in the East, and if irreconcilable antagonism should result on one or more points, it would go far to prove the uselessness of further endeavors to bring about an understanding. Beyond this is the question of guarantees, to wit: the pledge that Russia will really make the concession she promises, and the security that England will demand nothing further. It would form a dangerous anomaly to leave the armed forces of the two sides face to face, while they have diplomatically agreed. The withdrawal, therefore, of the British fleet and Russian army, seems to be naturally the corollary of any understanding.

The Times' Pera despatch says that the Insurgents at Rhodope have issued a proclamation to the christian populations of Thrace, Macedonia and Epirus, summoning them to arms against the common enemy.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—SENATE.—Whyte, of Maryland, called up the Senate bill granting a site for a Dry Dock in the city of Baltimore, upon certain conditions.

Edmunds submitted an amendment, providing that the property shall revert to the United States in case it shall be used for any other purpose, or if it shall at any time be unfit for use as a dry dock for a period of six months. Agreed to, and the bill passed as amended.

HOUSE.—Cabell, of Virginia, from the Committee on Railways and Canals, reported a bill to aid the Dismal Swamp Canal Company in improving its canal. It guarantees the government to the payment of the interest on the bonds of the company to an amount not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars. Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Investigation of the Florida Presidential frauds not being a question of privilege, must come in the regular order of business from the Judiciary Committee, which will ask for authority to investigate all the facts in relation thereto.

Bill reported to aid Dismal Swamp Canal, the government guaranteeing interest on $400,000 of its bonds, goes to the Committee of the Whole.

Over a bill to pay a loyal war claimant in Virginia, Hunton of Virginia, White of Pennsylvania, and Bragg went into a scene over Southern loyalty, Federal soldiers in Southern prisons, and Confederates in Northern bastiles, during which White passed the compliment of "false;" Turner, of Kentucky, participated, with fist in White's face; Sergeant-at-Arms called to the rescue, add belligerents calmed by their friends.

Failures.

By telegraph to the NEWS.

LONDON, May 10.—The Liverpool correspondent of the Times, referring to the failures of W. Winter Rapples, cotton broker, Dunkerly Carter & Co., provision merchants, and Wm. Walker, the latter also a provision merchant, with liabilities of £60,000, says it is feared that these failures are only the forerunners of many more unless the present trade depression is shortly overcome, of which there is no symptom.

Mr. Rapples had future contracts for thirty thousand bales of cotton. His liabilities are £15,000 to £20,000.

Thomas Grundy, builder, of Southport, Liverpool and Wolverhampton, has failed. Liabilities five hundred and ninety thousand dollars.

Object of the Russians in Visiting America.

(By telegraph to the News.)

NEW YORK, May 10.—Captain Semetschkin, of the Russian Navy, in an interview, said "the Cimbria was now under his orders, and he had his agents in different parts of the country. This vessel was a good store and transport ship, but unfitted for any other service. He intended to purchase fast sailing vessels, and supplies, but no letters of Marque would be issued by the Russian government for any privateers, and no privateering would be carried on under the Russian flag. In making these purchases in time of peace neither any of the treaties or laws of the country were violated. The Russian squadron would soon leave the Baltic for these waters, and the moment war was declared between Russia and England that they would go away and not trouble this country. The Russian vessels would be cruisers under the strictest Naval discipline, and the British prizes that fall into their hands would revert to the Russian government with the usual prize money to the officers and sailors. The Russian squadron had already been stationed in the Pacific to watch the British there." The Captain was asked what he could tell about the reports of raising Irishmen in this country for the Russian army, and of aid to the Russians by the Irish. He replied that no attempt had been made to draft any Irishmen in this country, and did not believe that there was any truth in these reports.

ATLANTA CONFERENCE.

From our Special Reporter.

ATLANTA, GA., May 8th, 1878.

EIGHTH DAY.

The General Conference convened at 9 a. m., and was opened with religious services, conducted by Dr. Linus Parker, of the Louisiana Conference. Bishop Paine in the chair.

Minutes of yesterday read and adopted.

Before leaving the chair, Bishop Paine addressed the Conference in regard to the Dameron case, not expressing an opinion, but exhorting the members of the Conference to lay aside all prejudice and passion, to preserve constitutional law, and to move cautiously in any steps they might take in reference to the case. His remarks were well timed and well received.

Bishop Pierce took the chair.

A letter stating that Dr. Clark, a fraternal messenger from the Methodist Protestant Church, would reach Atlanta about the 20th of May, was read and referred to the committee.

Rev. Mr. Veal gave notice that a large steel engraving of the late Bishop Marvin was on sale here for the benefit of a Texas College.

A call for reports of Standing Committees being made, several committees reported, and their reports were laid on the table until they could be published, and when they are taken up and considered, we will report them.

A report from the committee on Itineracy, endorsing and commending the Wesley Monumental Church enterprise of Savannah, Ga., and requesting the General Conference to appoint an agent to represent the enterprise, was adopted by the Conference.

A communication from the Salisbury District, North Carolina Conference, was presented by Dr. Craven, and referred to the committee on Boundaries.

Dr. Craven, of North Carolina, also presented a resolution from the North Carolina Conference opposing any change in the name of the church, which was referred to the appropriate committee.

Rev. W. S. Black, of North Carolina, introduced a resolution to empower District Trustees to dispose of district property, which was referred to a committee.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT.

The Dameron case came up again to-day and created a great deal of excitement. It was soon seen that the Conference was determined to settle the case to-day. As the contest drew near to a close the excitement and confusion in the Conference room was distressing. The chairman could not preserve order, although he exerted every effort to do so. We never saw more fillibustering in any religious body than we saw in the Conference room to-day. Question of order and questions of privilege were resorted to to ward off the decision of the case, but the cry of "question, question" and "vote, vote" came from every quarter and frequently in such volume of voice that the chairman and the man who was trying to gain the floor were both drowned in the the noise and confusion. After a hard struggle a vote was taken on the minority report and that report was not adopted. The minority report proposed to declare Mr. Dameron eligible to a seat. The vote was taken then on the majority report, which proposed to declare him ineligible, and the vote was taken by calling the ayes and noes, and the report was not adopted—the vote stood 131 for and 133 against the adoption of the report. So Mr. Dameron having been enrolled as a member at the opening of the Conferences, retains this seat. Whether the question of his eligibility will be brought up again remains to be seen. We hope it will not. The session was protracted to-day to finish up the Dameron case and that necessitates a hurried letter from me so as to get it off in the evening mail.

SPECIAL REMARKS.

I noticed in one of my letters that Dr. Bobbitt, of North Carolina, introduced a resolution to allow every Conference at least one local preacher in its lay delegations to a Conference. I should have said that he was joined in this by Rev. E. A. Yates, of North Carolina.

In the vote on the majority report in the Dameron case to-day, all the members of the North Carolina Delegation voted no except Rev. E. A. Yates and C. G. Montgomery, who voted aye. Dr. T. M. Jones was absent when the vote was taken. R.

Memorial Day in Wilson.

Special to the Raleigh News.

It was a lovely day. At an early hour the people from every section of the county began to pour in.

At 2 p. m., the stores and all places of business were closed.

At 4 p. m., the beautiful ceremonies took place at Mamona Hall. The building was crowded. The Hon. John Kerr delivered the oration. Upon the conclusion the ladies, gentleman, and children, numbering at least one thousand, formed in procession, preceded by the Marshals, Wilson Cornet Band, Orator and invited guests in carriages, and citizens on foot, and proceded to the cemetery, where the floral decorations were placed on the graves of the gallant dead, who lost their lives in defence of a noble cause. The good people of Wilson never fail to observe the 10th of May in an appropriate manner.

MEMORIAL DAY.

TRIBUTE TO OUR DEAD HEROES.

Ceremonies at Oakwood.

ADDRESS OF HON. T. C. FULLER.

The day we love so well dawned bright and clear. In the morning all was preparation for its observance. Loving, tender, womanly hands wove garlands of flowers and wreaths of evergreens, as graceful tributes to the memory of the gallant heroes who take their last repose beneath the shades of Oakwood. The ladies of the Memorial Association, with their usual devotion to a purpose, strove, nor strove in vain, to make the day's observances as perfect as might be.

At 4 P. M. the various organizations, military and civic, took their places in the procession, which was formed in front of the Yarbrough, in the following order:

Marshals.
Oak City Brass Band.
Raleigh Light Infantry.
Raleigh Light Artillery.
Rescue Steam Fire Company.
Hook & Ladder Company, No. 1.
Orator and Chaplain in Carriage.
Citizens in carriages.

The prescribed line of march was then taken for the cemetery. As the procession moved on the appearance presented was brilliant, the drooping flags, the lines of stately, slow-moving men, the troops with arms reversed, the sweetly sad notes that floated softly on the air from the mellow horns, all these gave a strange pleasure to the onlooker and listener. Memories of bygone days came up to those who in years past had worn the gray and marched to the drum taps, while even in the breast of the youngest was there a thrill of emotion.

On arrival at the cemetery the troops halted, arms were stacked, and the assemblage clustered round the stand. The choir then rendered, in a manner both beautiful and impressive, the song "Once more the spot," from the cantata of "Daniel." The choir was composed of ladies and gentlemen of the Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian church choirs. The Rev. W. R. Gwaltney, pastor of the Swain street Baptist Church, then made the following prayer:

"O, Lord, our Heavenly Father, the father of our spirits and the father of all our mercies, we are gathered here to do honor to our loved ones who fell in defence of a cause that was dear to them and to us. We recognize our entire dependence upon thee; that without thee we can do nothing acceptable in thy sight. Without the enlightening influences of thy holy spirit we must ever and in all things go wrong; therefore we pray thee to command thy rich blessing upon us. Sanctify this memorial occasion to our good, in aiding us to remember and cherish the patriotic spirit and self-denying deeds by which these our loved ones were distinguished, in contending for that which seemed dearer to them than life. May a constant remembrance of their noble, manly lives implant in us, and their children and ours, a fixed resolution to be men and women of true integrity, true to ourselves, true to others, and loyal to God and to our country. May the remembrance of their death remind us of our mortality, and fill us with a desire to meet and join the everlasting march of all who fell in the full panoply of Christ. Bless, O God, the loss of our loved ones to our good. May thy grace be found sufficient for all the bereaved and sorrowing. If there be here a weeping Mary or Martha, because a brother, father, husband or son lies here or in some distant cemetery, grant them the consolation of thy word, inspire them with the glorious hope of the gospel. Come, dear Saviour, to their comfort and joy. May they realize that whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth. Give them the faith of Paul to say, 'And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.' Bless him who is now to address us. Give him the full inspiration of the christian patriot, the christian orator; clothe him with the light and majesty of truth, the whole truth. Give him ready utterance, and may he speak to our edification and comfort. And now, O Lord, we beseech thee in an especial manner to command thy most choice blessings upon this Memorial Association, by whose arrangements we are here. May they never feel that their labors here are in vain, in scattering flowers upon these mounds, and decorating the graves of our beloved heroes. While thus annually familiarizing themselves with death, may they realize annually a more lively and cordial faith in the glorious doctrine of the resurrection. All these blessings we ask in the name and for the sake of Christ our adorable Redeemer. Amen."

Mr. Lee S. Overman, Chief Marshal, then introduced the orator of the day, Hon. Thomas C. Fuller, in a few pertinent remarks.

Colonel Fuller said:

Ladies of the Memorial Association; Fellow-Citizens:

To-day we have met to strew flowers on the graves of the soldiers. It is the memorial of the dead of the Southern Confederacy. Those who lie beneath these grassy mounds went forth at their country's call, with hearts beating as proudly beneath their gray jackets as hearts ever beat beneath the cordon of the Legion of Honor. They fought, they suffered, they died, and though the cause for which they died is lost, the memory of their brave deeds will live while patriot's tongue can chant a hero's praise and woman's tears bedew a hero's grave.

Upon each annual recurrence of this day let us pay this tribute to our dead, and when our children shall say to us, "why do ye this?" let us tell them the story of the Southern Confederacy—of its rise, its progress and its fall. Let us tell them of the soldiers who marched with Jackson and with Lee, who rode with Stuart and with Hampton, and who stood amid the flashing of the guns with Pelham and with Pendleton. Let tradition, let song, let history and monumental shaft, keep ever fresh and green the memory of that grand army, which, with tattered uniforms and bright bayonets, upheld the Confederate cause during four long years of fierce and bloody war. It is for the historian to trace the causes of the American conflict; it is the task of the statesman to learn and inculcate its lessons; but I shall speak to you of the battles, the victories, the glory, of those who made bright forever the name "Confederate."

Seventeen years ago the drum beat to arms, and eleven Southern States arrayed themselves for battle; the young, the middle-aged and the old, crowded thickly into the ranks of war, until, regiment by regiment, and brigade by brigade, they formed a mighty army of the truest and the best within our borders. The laborer was there, the artizan was there, the merchant was there, the professional man was there, and the citizen soldiery of the South, full of life and full of hope, went forth to meet their well-appointed foes. And when the hour came and the battle was joined at Bethel Church and on Manassas Plains, the glad shout of victory rang out, and the sun of the Confederacy rose bright and clear above the horizon. The mighty army of the North, raised to crush us with its might, and directed by him who was then called the greatest Captain of the age, was thrown back and beaten by the undisciplined valor of our Southern troops.

The first year of the war wore away. But scarcely had the buds of early spring begun to burst from the rich, alluvial soil of the Peninsula, when the army of the North, more perfect in its appointment, more complete in its equipment, and grander in its proportions than any the century had produced, moved forward with the proud bearing of men who march to assured victory. But the rifle-pits of Yorktown were manned, and the earth-works defended, by as stern, stubborn and unyielding soldiers as ever fought for liberty beneath the sun. Cheered by the smiles and encouraged by the approbation of our glorious Southern women, those men under Johnson and Magruder did and dared whatever manly courage and fortitude has dared and done in any age.

But Yorktown was evacuated, and as the enemy pressed us slowly back to the Chickahominy, God, in His providence, was raising up to be our leader a soldier greater than Napoleon, a patriot more exalted than Washington. The battle of Seven Pines was fought, Gen. Johnson was wounded, and on the 3rd day of June, 1862, the command of the army passed into the hands of General Robert E. Lee. Mechanicsville, Cold Harbor, Frazier's Farm, Malvern Hill, followed in rapid succession. The campaign was over. McClellan was beaten, his army was shattered and broken, and again the glad shout of victory rang out clear and bright throughout all our land.

But upon these battle-fields, heaps upon heaps, the dead men lay. There was Malvern Hill, bloody Malvern, glorious Malvern! Bathed in the sunlight of a summer's evening, its green slopes and thick shades seemed to invite to the sweet repose of calm, delightful peace. But its sides bristled with bayonets, and its heights were crowned with the most powerful artillery. The cannoneers who served the guns, and the infantry which lay along its sides, were the best soldiers of the Northern army. Our soldiers charged right up the hill: the shrieking shell, the murderous volley and the death-dealing canister swept away platoon, company, battalion; still they pressed right up the hill. Comrade fell, brother fell, but on, on, they pressed to glory and to death. And when the sun went down that day, the light went out in many a Southern home. For there they lay—father, son, husband, brother—dead in heaps, upon the blood-drenched soil of Malvern. There is nothing grander, there is nothing more terrible in the annals of war than the battle of Malvern. There is no instance of more sublime courage than the Confederates there showed. When

"Like the war-horse panting for the strife.
They would not yield a step for death or life."

But what could valor avail against the overwhelming numbers and resources of the enemy, with all Europe for recruiting, and the whole world as their depot of supplies. Scarcely had the campaign of Richmond closed, when the battle was again joined, and at Cedar Run, with the cry of "Stonewall Jackson," the God of battles gave us splendid victory.

Then followed Second Manassas, the greatest battle of the war; when for two long summer days the mighty hosts contended, hand to hand and breast to breast; when the bayonet dripped with blood, and the sword had enough; and thirty thousand men, told the Federal loss in the campaign. Well may the historian say, "It was a great and glorious campaign, and worthy of the illustrious soldier who planned it."

Ah! who does not remember what a thrill of pleasure and exultation was felt by every Southern heart, as the news of these successes passed from city to village, from village to hamlet, and from hamlet to cot. And when we learned that the grey jackets were over the border, tears of joy flowed from the eyes of stalwart men, and all felt that the day of our deliverance was surely near at hand.

Can we not imagine with what feelings the ragged, war-worn veterans of the Army of Northern Virginia forded the broad Potomac, and as their feet pressed the soil of Maryland how they stepped out bold and free to the soul-stirring strains of Dixie? And can we not picture to ourselves General Lee, as with flashing eye and proud heart he beheld the long lines of Confederates—men who had never turned their backs to the enemy—press on to the execution of his plans for the first Maryland campaign? The hopes of our people were never brighter than at this moment. But it was not written in the decrees of Providence that they should be realized. After the capture of Harper's Ferry, the fierce battle of South Mountain, the drawn battle at Sharpsburg, Gen. Lee returned across the Potomac, leaving behind him not a sound field-piece, not a tent or box of stores; but bringing with him the supplies gathered in Maryland and the rich spoils of Harper's Ferry. But the work of the year was not yet done. As the last sands of 1862 ran dropping from the glass of time, "Fredericksburg" was written upon our standards, and splendid victory crowned our arms. Thus ended the second year of the war.

The 10th day of May, 1863, ushered in the ever memorable battle of Chancellorsville. The genius of General Jackson never shone with more resplendent lustre than on that day. The meteor flag of the South was never followed with more devoted heroism than on that day. Our force, outnumbered two to one, had met the "finest army on the planet," on its chosen ground, and was driving it in wild rout from the field. The victory was won; but O! how dearly was it bought. General Jackson was borne from the field, torn, mangled and dying; and the brightest star in our firmament set to rise no more. The man of God and of the sword passed from earth to heaven, leaving to us the undying memory of his deeds and the immortality of his fame.

"The Patriot slept,
The nation wept."

Chancellorsville, Maryе's Heights, Hooker's campaign closed, and the gray jackets were again across the border. Up to this time a kind Providence had smiled upon us; if we had met with reverses in the west, they had been much more than counterbalanced by the almost unbroken successes of the grand old army of Northern Virginia. Those scarred and hardy veterans felt that they could undertake anything. This feeling prompted one beloved commander to attempt to retrieve our losses elsewhere by another invasion of the Northern States. The culminating point in the campaign was Gettysburg. Now I tell you the tale. 'Tis a tale of disaster. Though all was done that skill could do; though all was done that valor could do, the field of Gettysburg was lost. Gettysburg and Vicksburg! The sun of our national fortunes had reached its zenith, and begun to decline, and thus closed the third year of the war.

In May, 1864, commenced the last campaign. With Gen. Grant in command of the Federal army, it was a campaign of mere attrition. The army of Northern Virginia was reduced to less than fifty thousand effective men, and were outnumbered by their opponents in a ratio of greater than three to one. The disparity in numbers was too great. The enemy hurled against our thin lines great masses of men, and as they were shot down and bayonetted, by thousands, the teeming hives of the Old World furnished fresh supplies. Fighting as never men fought, day by day, from the Wilderness to the James; enduring privations that would alone have worn away any other army; growing weaker with each battle; inflicting a loss upon the enemy greater than their entire number at the commencement of the campaign; the remnant of the grand old army of Northern Virginia, worn down by fatigue, by hunger and by battle, reeled into Petersburg and there made that defence which history has pronounced the loftiest achievement of human prowess and human endurance. For nine long months; with scanty rations and insufficient clothing; with numbers constantly diminishing by disease and casualties; with daily toil and daily battle, did these men stand in the trenches of Petersburg and fight as never men fought, and suffered as never men suffered, for all that is dear to American Freemen—the right of local self-government.

In vain was the suffering; in vain the most determined defence; in vain the headlong charge; in vain was precious blood poured out like water on the ground. All, all, was in vain; it was not written that we should succeed, and all that man could do was done in vain. The retreat, the surrender at Appomattox Court House,—and all was over with the noble army of Northern Virginia.

No, all was not over yet. The flag they had loved so well, and had followed so faithfully, must be furled, to wave no more. Those guns which had flashed so fiercely in the red conflict and had pealed forth so joyously the notes of triumph, must be parked in silence; those trusty arms, which they loved as living things, must be stacked for the foe; and with choking sobs and streaming eyes, comrade pressed the hand of comrade and in silence and grief they parted, to meet in life no more forever.

The cause was lost, but honor was not lost, and it needs now but a simple recital of their deeds to make the heart of the listener say, "Thank God; these are my countrymen, and the army of Northern Virginia was the army of the Confederacy!"

After the surrender of General Lee, at Appomattox, a few men, gathered mainly from garrisons, where thrown in Sherman's advance, and though they fought and bled and died, as became the Southern soldier, it was all in vain. Bentonville—the armistice—Johnson's surrender—and all was over. Thick darkness fell upon our people, and the Southern Confederacy was numbered among the things that were. It belongs to another age to write its history—other men and other times will do it justice.

But how did North Carolina bear herself in the great struggle? When the winds were up and the waves were high, did she breast the billows like a brave swimmer? Did she act well her part in the grand drama? I tell you, friends, she did her duty. Better soldiers than she sent forth never shouldered the musket or buckled on the sword. From the first battle at Bethel to the last at Bentonville she was "ready, aye, always ready." Her record is written in the blood of her thousands slain. Read that—it is enough.

No story of the Confederacy can be complete which does not tell of the matchless constancy and undying devotion of our glorious Southern women; their loving words and generous deeds moved and cheered the soldier in his hours of suffering and of danger; their smiles and plaudits made victory more sweet; and their angel ministrations around the lonely couch of the sick and wounded were more powerful for healing than medicine, and more delightfully soothing than balm. There is no man who has ever worn the gray; there is no man who has ever worthily followed the starry cross, who does not say from his heart, "God bless, God forever bless the noble women of our Southern land."

At the conclusion of this admirable address, which fell from the lips of the orator with great effect and force, the choir rendered in an admirable manner "The Bivouac of the Dead." At the conclusion Capt. Francis, H. Cameron presented to the ladies of the Association a magnificent anchor and cross of rarest flowers, the gift of Capt. C. B. Fairchild, who was a gallant soldier of the Federal army.

The choir then sang the Doxology. The exercises were concluded with the Benediction by the Chaplain. The Raleigh Light Artillery then fired a salute of eleven guns, and the Raleigh Light Infantry fired three volleys. These ceremonies and observances ended, the graves were strewn with flowers.

One result of the ladies' work was shown by a glance at the speaker's stand. On the front of this was the motto in evergreen, "Thy will be done," while the structure was ornamented with flowers and evergreens. Upon the Soldiers' Monument was the one word "Resurgam."

The ladies of the Memorial Association are entitled to special credit for their management; while to the Marshals, courteous, obliging and efficient, is due much credit. The choir also added much to the affair by the excellence of their music. The appearance of the troops, the Raleigh Light Infantry, under Capt. Francis H. Cameron, and the Raleigh Light Artillery, under Capt. J. W. Lee, was fine, and excited much comment. The Rescue and Hook and Ladder Company also looked well.

Thus, agreeably to all concerned, closed Memorial day. 1878.

Rev J Worrall Larmour moved the appointment of a committee of three, consisting of one clergyman and two laymen, whose duty it should be to attend to the printing of the Journal of the Convention.

The motion was carried, and the Rev. Dr. Patterson, Dr. DeRosset, and Mr. James A. Willard, were appointed said committee.

Bishop Atkinson read his annual address to the clergy and laity, from which we learn that during the past ecclesiastical year he has confirmed 219 persons, baptised 33 adults and 24 infants, and has buried 4 persons. Four persons have been ordained to the Diaconate and one to the Priesthood. Four priests and one deacon have been received into this, and three priests have been transferred to other Dioceses, and one deacon has been deposed; that the whole number of clergy in the Diocese at present is larger than ever before, numbering 63; and that there are now five candidates for Priest's Orders, three for Deacon's Orders, and five Postulants.

Bishop Lyman then read his report, giving a detailed statement also of his Episcopal ministrations for the year, which may be briefly summed up as follows: He had confirmed 213 persons, visited 81 churches and missionary stations, some more than once; had baptized 13 infants; officiated at two marriages and at one funeral; that he had consecrated two churches, and administered Holy Communion fifty times, besides other celebrations in the service of the Church.

Both of the Bishops spoke very favorably of the Wilberforce School at Morganton, urging the aid of the members of the church in its behalf,

Rev J W Larmour moved that the addresses of the Bishops be referred to the committee on the State of the Church, which was agreed to.

On motion of Rev Dr Sutton, that part of each address touching the Wilberforce school at Morganton was referred to a committee of three.

Rev Drs Sutton and Huske and Capt S A Ashe were appointed said committee.

Rev Mr Ambler moved that when the morning session should adjourn it should be to meet at 5 p. m. Carried.

Rev Dr Watson presented the report of the Executive Misssionary committee

Rev Dr Watson presented the report of the Finance committee.

The committee on New Parishes reported through their chairman, Rev W R Wetmore, against the admission of St. Cyprian's Chapel, Newbern, on account of non-compliance with the requirements of the canon.

Rev. J E C Smedes read a report from the committee on Unfinished Business.

Mr R E Calder, on behalf of the Ladies' Memorial Association, extended an invitation to the Convention to participate in the memorial ceremonies of the 10th instant, which was accepted with thanks.

Mr. H A London, Jr, offered the following amendment to the constitution in relation to election of Bishops, which was, on motion, referred to the committee on Canons:

Resolved, That section 1st, article 12th, of the constitution be amended by striking out all after the words "distinct orders," and inserting in lieu thereof, "and a concurrent vote of a majority of all the clergy in the Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, and of the delegates from at least twenty parishes in union with the Convention (the said delegates voting by parishes) shall be necessary for an election."

On motion of Rev. Edward Wootten, the Convention then adjourned until 5 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention was called to order by Bishop Lyman at 5 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Marshall, Historiographer of the Convention, presented a verbal report stating that twenty-one clergy of the Diocese had complied with the resolution of the Convention in regard to collecting the histories of their parishes; that five had signified their intention of doing so, as soon as practicable, and that twenty-nine had failed to comply.

Rev W S Bynum offered a resolution amending article 2 of the Constitution, in relation to the time of holding the Conventions, proposing to change the sessions from annual, as at present, to triennial, which was referred to committee on Canons.

Rev Dr Watson submitted a supplementary report from the Finance Committee, and urged the adoption of certain resolutions relating thereto, which were carried.

On motion of Rev Dr Huske, May 14, 1878, was selected as the time for holding the next annual Convention.

Rev J W Larmour moved to proceed to the election of the Committee on Education, which was carried, and the Rev Dr Patterson, Hon George Davis and Mr A H VanBokkelen were unanimously elected.

On motion of Rev Mr Larmour, an election was gone into for the Church Building Committee, and Revs A A Benton, J C Huske, D D, and E R Rich, and Messrs Jas C McRae and F R Rose, were unanimously elected.

On motion of Col. John W Atkinson, the election of Treasurer was declared in order. Dr A J DeRosset was nominated and re-elected without opposition.

Be it resolved, That the Convention has heard with gratification the intention of the Assistant Bishop to attend the Conference of the Anglo-Catholic Church, called by the Archbishop of Canterbury, to meet at Lambeth in the month of July next; and it would be a source of added gratification could the Bishop of the Diocese make it convenient to attend the same Conference and contribute thereto the benefit of his wise counsels.

Rev. Dr. Buxton, from the committee on Canons, reported in favor of the adoption of the amendment of Rev. Dr. Sutton, relative to the change in the date of the beginning and ending of the Parochial Year, which was, on motion of Rev. Dr. Sutton, made the special order immediately after the reading of the journal Friday morning.

The committee on Canons also reported in favor of the amendment to the constitution offered by Mr. H. A. London, Jr., relative to amending article 2 so as to change the manner of electing Bishops.

After considerable debate the motion as reported was carried by the following vote: Clergy, ayes 23, noes 13; parishes, ayes 15, noes 3. [This action is not final, however, the constitution providing that amendments shall be adopted by two annual conventions before becoming laws.]

On motion, the Convention then adjourned until 8½ p. m.

NIGHT SESSION.

The Convention was called to order at 8½ o'clock by the Bishop.

Rev Dr Patterson read a report of the Trustees of the University of the South, with the following resolution appended:

Be it resolved by the Convention, That the clergy be requested to make an annual collection in each parish for the purposes of the University of the South.

Be it resolved, That the University of the South has the sympathy of this Diocese; and that the clergy of the Diocese be requested at convenient times to make collections for its maintenance.

After a prolonged debate the resolution as amended by Col. Atkinson was adopted.

The Convention then adjourned to meet at 9½ o'clock.

HAYWOOD COUNTY.

Resolutions of a Democratic County Meeting.

Correspondence of the News.

At the Democratic Convention of Haywood county, held in Waynesville on the 6th May, 1878, the following resolutions were introduced by Capt. Matt. M. Love, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved 1st, That the Chairman of this Convention appoint five delegates to the State Convention.

Resolved 2d, That in case neither of the delegates so appointed shall attend the State Convention, that the Hon. J. L. Robinson, of Macon county, be authorized to cast the vote of this county in said Convention.

Resolved 3d, That our representatives in the State Convention be instructed to cast the vote of this county for the Hon. W. N. H. Smith for Chief Justice and the Hon. David Schenck for Associate Justice on the Supreme Court bench.

Resolved 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Asheville "Citizen" and Raleigh papers for publication.

HALIFAX COUNTY.

Ringwood--Municipal Election Court Matters--Personal and Political.

Correspondence of the NEWS.

RINGWOOD, N. C., May 7th, 1878.

The election passed off quietly. Dr. G. E. Matthews was elected Mayor, with a full Conservative ticket for commissioners and constable.

Judge Seymour opened court at Halifax yesterday. I heard his charge to the grand jury, which was warmly commended for its force and clearness. There is much business on the docket, and many additions will doubtless be made to the public "pen" at Raleigh. But few lawyers from abroad have arrived. I saw Mr. Jos. B. Batchelor, of Raleigh; also have had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of Major Gilliam, of your city.

Every Democrat with whom I converse, or nine-tenths at least, are for Vance for United States Senator.

The bill to repeal the bankrupt law passed the Senate yesterday, to take effect September 1st.

ANY mistake on the part of leaders that should now conduce to any measure of Republican success in this State, would be a crime for which no Democrat could hope to be forgiven.

THE Democratic organization was never better at the beginning of a State campaign, and it should be a matter of constant solicitude for the preservation of organization and the maintenance of harmony in ranks and councils.

THE general success of the regular Democratic tickets in the municipal contests throughout the State on Monday last, is especially significant of the attitude of the Democratic party toward independents at the beginning of the campaign.

THE masses of the people in this State, determined on good local government at Democratic hands and under Democratic auspices, are to be understood as in no frame of mind to tolerate actions or mistakes on the part of leaders, tending to failure and disaster.

Memorial Services.

Memorial ceremonies were generally observed throughout the State yesterday, our people uniting in the annual tribute which fond memory loves to pay to soldierly valor. Enshrined in the hearts of the living, the heroic devotion of the patriotic dead may well be cherished by a people, who, loving liberty, desire to perpetuate republican institutions. In these services at the graves of our dead, we weave wreaths for American patriotism, of the freshest flowers of Spring; and the ceremony and its observance is symbolic of devotion to the American soldier, as he has always borne himself, whether at Bunker's Hill, or Gettysburg.

"Then soldiers to your honored rest,
Your truth and valor bearing;
The bravest are the tenderest,—
The loving are the daring."

Communistic.

A spirit of unrest, born of depression and distress, pervades a large proportion of the American masses.

Threats and apprehensions of communistic outbreaks are heard like mutterings of a coming storm, and much fear is felt for the domestic repose of our country.

Movements are on foot at the North and West that portend great evil to the peace, property and varied interests of those sections. The railroad riots of last summer may be repeated at any day on a grand and organized scale, and the country may be wrapped in ruin from the Pacific slope to the Atlantic shores.

It is well to look these dangers squarely in the face, and appreciating their imminence prepare for them. In any such conflict, come when or how it may, property will suffer. Against property the communist, who in this country is an unemployed or unremunerated laborer, aims his blow. Himself the victim of want, and infuriated by the increasing suffering and starvation of his family, he will strike for the comforts and luxuries of the well-to-do and the rich. He will seek the destruction of that which he cannot himself possess; denied in his own family the necessaries of life, he will deprive others, as far as he can, of the comforts and luxuries of living. Once at large on his mad career, nothing, not his own, will be sacred in his eyes.

For this impending condition of things Congress and the National government may be held as directly responsible. Ever since the war Congress and the government has fostered the rich at the expense of the poor. Every act of legislation was for the benefit of capital to the exclusion of labor. The bond-holding Shylock came, ever and anon, demanding his pound of flesh, and readily was it always given him. Come when he would, and as often, or how he would; whether asking for gold-interest, cash subsidies for plundering schemes, or land-donations for giant corporations, him of the money-bags went away gorged, leaving the toiler to struggle, sweat and starve.

And these were the peculiar blessings of Republican rule in the councils and cabinet of the nation.

Finally the crisis came, as come it was long foretold it must. From September, 1873, to the present time, every industrial interest has gone on suffering; mills stopped, foundries closed, shops silenced, and the price of every product of the field depreciated. Throughout all this period of depression and growing distress, the government has done absolutely nothing to ameliorate the dread condition of things. On the contrary, refusing at the outstart to do anything to avert it, every energy of the government has bent itself to expedite the ruin and destruction upon the country. Haste was manifested to pay the national debt, as therein was supposed to reside the first interest of capital, the especial care of legislation and a fostering administration. In the midst of the wreck and inevitable ruin which, under these auspices had overtaken the country, silver was demonetized, for the further benefit of gold-interest bond-holders; and to complete all, laws were passed to accelerate contraction of a currency always trebly too scarce; and finally, a day was fixed commanding resumption of specie payments.

And this was the beneficence of Republican rule.

Finding, in 1873, the wheels of industry clogging, and with every day, enterprise failing, and industry lagging, instead of coming to the rescue with liberal appropriations of money for needed works of public improvement, the national administration became suddenly alive to the necessity for "retrenchment and reform," and under these specious pretexts of "economy," measures of the meanest parsimony were adopted by the government; and one hears daily now from Congress of the saving of so many millions by suspending this or that public work, cutting down needed appropriations so as to practically destroy the objects they were intended to accomplish, substituting for iron, wooden beams and rafters in granite buildings planned to last ten centuries; and in every conceivable way tightening the death grip of the government on the vital interests of the country; stamping the life out of all enterprise of the people, and letting loose a hungry horde of idle workmen to prey upon the public, and organize their crusade against property.

Repeal of Tax on State Bank Circulation.

The following communication to the NEWS by one of the most enterprising as well as among the most intelligent business men of Eastern Carolina, merits consideration at the hands of our wisest and best financiers; and the subject is one of very first importance to our people. If the government will not supply a sufficient amount of currency to conduct the business of the country, then the people must have relief through their own resources.

The subject of banking capital for the South and West, is now engaging the attention of many of our financiers and business men, and is also causing some discussion in Congress.

During the late war a law was passed by the United States Congress, levying a tax of ten per cent. upon the issues of all State Banks. This act was passed under the Revenue law, and was intended to produce revenue, and to aid in placing the bonds; but it was so oppressive that it killed the banks, and it has now ceased to yield any revenue. We propose to offer some reasons why the law should be repealed.

1. The necessity for the law has ceased, and as it yields no revenue, there is no good reason for its continuance.

2. The law injuriously affects the agricultural interest of the Southern and Western States, and is oppressive.

3. Owing to the entire loss of capital at the South by the destruction of our banks, and the repudiations of the Southern war debt, we are almost without banking capital.

4. Money at a lower rate of interest is an absolute necessity for the development of the vast resources of the South and West.

5. The increased demand from Europe and other foreign countries for American food, and for the products of our manufactories and mines, demands that every facility should be given to each State to develop her resources to the fullest extent. It is well known that the great wealth of nations has always been, and must continue to be, based on agriculture.

6. Every merchant and manufacturer at the North would soon feel the benefit of Southern and Western banking capital, in increased sales and improved collections.

7. The United States very properly supply a currency composed of gold, silver and greenbacks, which amply provides funds for travelers, and for exchange in moving the crops, but this currency cannot supply the needed capital to develop Southern and Western lands.

8. Banks of issue chartered by the various States will supply capital in all respects suitable for the purpose of developing lands and raising crops, at a low rate of interest.

9. Our National banks at the South could obtain charters from the Legislature, if their stockholders deemed it expedient, and become banks of issue under State laws.

10. Bills heretofore issued by State banks, when properly protected by Legislative action, have always maintained their value. The only loss of any consequence was during the late war.

It may be asked, why cannot national banks afford the needed relief? We reply, a national bank with one hundred thousand dollars capital (currency taken from a community and locked up in bonds) can only issue ninety thousand dollars in bills, while a State bank with a capital of one hundred thousand dollars can safely issue two hundred thousand dollars of bank notes that will be fully as good for home circulation, and as safe for the community as gold, silver or greenbacks, and could be loaned at a less rate of interest. The condition of the South is entirely different from that existing at the North. In the one case no bank capital was destroyed by the war. Property was preserved intact, the entire war debt was capitalized, and now forms the wealth and currency of that section, giving to the North ample ability to employ labor and to develop every industry. While at the South all bank capital, and even bank notes were destroyed; personal property was burnt or used up by the necessities of the war, and the entire war debt rendered worthless, making capital so scarce that valuable farms are growing up in bushes, water-falls are wasting their power, laborers are idle, and productions of every kind are far less than they should be.

The South and West have large quantities of unimproved lands, which must remain so unless money can be obtained at a lower rate of interest. No farmer can afford to develop his land with money at eighteen per cent. interest, while at eight per cent. he could afford to do so, and in the development he would give employment to laborers, and would greatly increase the wealth and productions of the several States.

The interests of the South and West are identical in this matter, and a united effort on the part of our Representatives in Congress, would no doubt cause a speedy repeal of the law.

STATE NEWS.

Milton Chronicle: We learn upon undoubted authority that Capt. Parrish, the Superintendent of the Milton & S. N. G. Railroad, has leased the road from Maj. Sutherlin.

The Greensboro Patriot says that the probabilities are that Col. T. M. Holt will be the Democratic nominee for State Senator from the counties of Alamance and Guilford.

Oxford Free Lance: Never in the political history of Granville has there been witnessed such unity and good spirit in the Democratic ranks. A good ticket, and good-bye to radicalism..... During the past week Townesville township has been the scene of several fires, which appear to have had their origin in incendiary sentiments.

Charlotte Observer: About six years ago, while a party whom J. W. Wadsworth had employed to clean out the well on his livery stable lot, was engaged in the work, he found far down under the water not less than seventy copper coins of almost every imaginable variety and of various denominations. Yesterday a colored man was again cleaning out the same well when, near the bottom, but concealed in a crevice between the rocks, he found about thirty copper coins and medals, of different ages and representing many different nations. One of the medals has upon it characters connecting it with the vice-consul of Norway and Sweden, at Charleston.

Oxford Free Lance: Sunday Mr. Virgil Campbell was deputized to arrest Tump Smith, a negro. Smith refused to be arrested, showing fight, and in the scuffle that ensued succeeded in cutting the officer slightly in the face, and Campbell returned the compliment by lodging a ball in one of his arms. He then took leg bail, followed by two more pistol balls, one taking effect in the back. As the Virginia line was only a few hundred yards distant he managed to cross and is now at liberty. In the afternoon the negro women of the neighborhood became very obstreperous, threatening the life of Campbell. Their conduct was so outrageous that warrants were issued for their arrest, and two of them were bound over to keep the peace.

Dissent from the Last Homestead Decision.

(Charlotte Observer.)

We see it stated that Justice Harlan dissented from the opinion of the majority of the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States in reversing the decision of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in the homestead case of Edwards vs. Kearzey. The majority of the court held that homestead laws were unconstitutional as to pre-existing debts, upon the ground that such laws impaired the obligation of contract. Justice Harlan dissented, upon the ground that such laws only affected the remedy, and that it has been the settled doctrine that the States could make exemptions applicable to all contracts upon grounds of public policy.

The Common Enemy.

In order to make headway against the common enemy, Disease, it is necessary to oppose him with persistence. It very frequently happens that a remedy perfectly adequate to the necessities of the case, if persisted in, is condemned and thrown aside because a few doses of it do not cure a malady. How unreasonable and unjust would such a judgment be regarding Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, one of the most popular and highly sanctioned medicines of the day, a potent invigorant and an invariably successful remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, incipient rheumatism and gout, inactivity and weakness of the kidneys and bladder, and for the infirmities incident to the decline of life. No fact is better established than the above, yet in order to experience its truth those afflicted with obstinate forms of disease should give this benignant curative a patient trial. If they do, they may rely upon decisive curative results.

Wallack's Orchestra.

The orchestra of Wallack's Theatre, New York, is famous for its extraordinary precision. This is due entirely to Thomas Baker, an Englishman, who has conducted it for years. Mr. Baker used to suffer terribly from rheumatism, but now is as supple and nimble as a schoolboy. He ascribes his freedom, as he ought, to Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia.

I respectfully refer you to Messrs. J. J. Thomas, Raleigh; J. W. O'Neil, Clayton and others who sold it last spring, and to the various farmers who used it, who say it makes as much cotton as fertilizers costing 3 or 4 times as much. Address,

The Press Convention.

The papers were in error as to the statement that the Press Convention is to meet at Hickory. It assembles at the Sparkling Catawba Springs, and will there hold its session. The date of meeting is July 3rd. It is thought that the assemblage of journalists will be a large one. Much business will be transacted, and, of course, a considerable amount of enjoyment will be had at the same time.

A ball will be given at Hickory to the Association, on their return. The Springs are about 7 miles from Hickory, and can be conveniently reached.

Fire this Morning.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was given by the ringing of a church bell in the fourth ward, and by the usual shouting. The alarm was not given by the Metropolitan bell until quite a time after the fire had full headway. The house in flames was a 1½ story, four-room frame building, at the intersection of Cannon and McDowell streets. The house was new, in fact not completed, and was the property of Cynthia Brown, colored. The flames seized quickly upon the combustible material, at d ere the firemen arrived all hope of saving the structure was given up. The Bucket company (col'd) was the first to appear. They were followed by the Phœnix, (chemical.) The latter threw a stream upon the almost fallen building, while the firemen tore away fencing and outhouses.

The people living in the vicinity all believe the fire to be the work of an incendiary. They say that on first looking out they saw the flames rise from the roof, as if a fire had been kindled inside. No insurance was held upon the property. The light and heat from the flaming structure were both intense, and the foliage of the trees presented a beautiful appearance, thrown in relief against the background of sky.

Gov. Vance in New Berne.

The Governor, accompanied by the Adjutant General, arrived in New Berne at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, the 9th. They were met at the depot by the New Berne Grays and Elm City Riflemen, and the Silver Cornet Band. These were commanded by Col. R. D. Hancock, of the First Regiment. There were also citizens in carriages and on foot. Receiving the Governor at the depot, the procession, headed by Adjutant General Jones and Col. Hancock, marched down East Front, Craven, South Front, and up Middle street, to the residence of Major John Hughes, where the Governor and Adjutant General are quartered during their stay. In the procession the Governor was seated with Mayor Long, Chief Marshal Manly and Major Hughes, in a carriage drawn by four horses. The reception was very cordial, and the streets were crowded with throngs of people, white and colored, who followed the procession. Gov. Vance went to New Berne to deliver the Memorial Address, which he did on yesterday.

On Thursday evening he delivered his address on the "Scattered Nation," for the benefit of the two military companies; the theatre was crowded to its fullest capacity, and, as everywhere else, the address was received with the highest favor.

Whereas the Central Executive Committee of the Democratic Conservative party, have called a convention of the party, to be held at the State Capitol on Thursday June 13th, 1878, for the purpose of selecting a Chief Justice, and two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court,

And whereas upon the purity of character, the legal ability, and earnest devotion to the principles of constitutional liberty of our Judiciary depends the happiness and prosperity of the people of North Carolina.

And whereas in the persons of Hon. W. N. H. Smith, the present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and Hon. Resolved, 2nd, That we declare, in common with our sister counties in Western North Carolina, for Hon. David Schenck, of Lincoln, as our first choice for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

Resolved, 3rd, That we will support the choice of our eastern friends for the additional Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

Resolved, 4th, That the chairman of this meeting be instructed to appoint twenty delegates to the Convention to be held in Raleigh on the 13th day of June next, and that they are instructed to vote as above.

Harmony in the Ranks--County Candidates--Omission in Election Law--County Matters and Crops.

Correspondence of the News.

JOHNSTON COUNTY, May 9, 1878.

On Saturday last, the Conservatives of Johnston held a Convention, as has been previously spoken of in your columns. And I don't know that it has ever been my good fortune to be in one more harmonious. Nothing but the best of order prevailed.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

The time set for the County Convention was the 4th Saturday in June, at which county candidates will be nominated. I have heard but very few spoken of, except for the Legislature, the names of whom in that connection are E. A Bizzell, J. P. Edmundson, Jno. Avery, Sr., Jos. Mitchiner and Geo. Keener, either of whom would give satisfaction. There are others I am pretty certain, but I hav'nt heard them spoken of.

THE OMISSION IN THE ELECTION LAW.

By the way, in examining the laws of 1876-'77, we find no proviso for electing a Register of Deeds. Is this an oversight in the Legislature, a misprint, or is it purposely done? We would be pleased to hear the opinions of others on this point. We can find a provision for electing them in 1880, but none for the present year.

MAGISTRATES IN COUNCIL.

The Magistrates of Johnston meet together to organize and consider different county questions in their power, on Tuesday after the first Monday in June.

THE CROPS.

There is plenty of fruit in this section, and notwithstanding the severe hail in the early part of the spring, crops are looking very well for the season, and everything thus far points to a bountiful harvest.

CATAWBA COUNTY.

County Meeting--Delegates to State Convention Uninstructed--M. L. McCorkle for Judge--The Wheat Crop---County Assessments.

Correspondence of the News.

NEWTON, N. C., May 7th, 1878.

The political ball was introduced today, and as soon as a sufficient number of players can be collected the rolling will begin. There are plenty who propose taking a hand, but the managers have decided to choose their players by conventions. Look out for a ten strike in August.

According to due notice given by the County Executive Committee, the people of Catawba assembled in convention to-day, in the court-house, and organized by calling Dr. J. R Campbell to the chair, and J. L. Tomlinson acting as secretary.

The object of the meeting was briefly explained by the chair to be to appoint delegates to the State Convention, also to the Judicial, District and Senatorial Conventions.

On motion, it was agreed that the chair appoint eight delegates to the State Convention (one from each township), five from each township to the Judicial, and two from each township to the senatorial. The chairman, with the assistance of the representatives of the different townships, made the appointments.

On motion, it was agreed that the delegates be instructed to vote for Col. M. L. McCorkle for Judge of the Judicial District at the District Convention, to be held at Hickory on the 29th inst.

A resolution approving the past course of Col. W. H. Cowles as Solicitor was offered by M. O. Sherrill, and adopted. The delegates to State and Senatorial Conventions were allowed to act uninstructed.

A request was made by the Executive Committee for the townships to hold preliminary meetings at their tax-gatherings, to appoint delegates to the County Convention, to be held at the court-house on the 22d of June, to nominate county officers. The meeting then adjourned.

THE WHEAT CROP.

The wheat crop is generally looking well. Some of our farmers are complaining of the rust. We are having plenty of rain, and the farmers are busy with their corn and other crops.

PERSONAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENTS.

The Board of Assessors are now in session, and have made the following as a uniform scale of valuation, to wit: 1st class stallion, $150; 2nd class, $100. 1st class harness saddle horse or mule; $100; 2d class, 75; 3d class, 50. 1st class milch cow, 20; 2d class, 15 3d class, 10.

Municipal Election---Ku Klux Controversy.

Correspondence of the NEWS.

MARION, N. C., May 7th, 1878.

Our municipal election passed off quietly. G. G. Eanes was elected mayor, and the following were elected commissioners: J. C. McCurry, W. F. Craig, Wm. Dillinger, and Drs. E. B. Harris and J. H. Gilkey. A constable was voted for, and resulted in the election of Jas. Elliott.

Nearly every Democrat I hear mention the ku klux controversy expresses sympathy for Capt. Shotwell, and opposition to Judge Schenck. Means has been, I think, the means of killing his friend in this contest.

Dixie Music Forever.

So say we all, and let those who believe in Home Music support and encourage Home Music Houses. If a Piano or Organ is wanted don't send North for it, but order from Ludden & Bates, Savannah, Ga., the Great Wholesale Piano and Organ Dealers of the South, who are now offering reliable instruments at prices which are actually driving Northern Dealers out of the field. No House, North or South, has ever undersold these irrepressible music men, and whoever tries it on will have their hands full. Read their advertisement in this issue and see who is ahead in the Piano and Organ War. *

Fly Fans.

Anything that will drive away those summer pests—flies—will be welcomed by everyone. Something to supersede the old negro-power feather frighteners, and which will be self-acting, will surely be sought after as the one thing needful. At last the best thing for the purpose has been discovered, and is found in the new Fly Fans, iron and steel, for sale at Brewster's.

Notice to Teachers.

Applications will be received for the position of Principal of the Newbern Academy for the academic year, beginning September 30th, 1878.

School rooms, fuel and $600 per annum, in addition to the proceeds arising from tuition, will be offered for the services of a suitable Principal.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

M. E. MANLY, President,
F. C. ROBERTS, Secretary and Treasurer. *

I will sell, for cash, a consigned lot of wood, delivered at any house within the city limits, at the following reduced figures: Good oak at $3.00 per cord; woods pine at $2.75 per cord; field pine, seasoned, at $2.50 per cord. Also 100,000 brick, hard and salmon, cheap.

Mosely to the Front.

Has opened at Carmer's old stand a first class Ice Cream and Soda Water Saloon. Shall be pleased to see old friends and customers and as many new ones who feel disposed to encourage an institution very much needed in the City of Oaks. All cordially invited to call. Families supplied at short notice. Prices to suit the times.

Something New in the Sewing Machine Line.

Mr. J. L. Stone, General Agent for "Light Running" New Home Sewing Machine, invites the ladies to call at his warerooms on Fayetteville Street. He has sold several of the above named machines in our place, and can give any reference that is desired. *

Mothers, Mothers, Mothers.

Don't fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for all diseases of teething in children. It relieves the child from pain, cures wind colic, regulates the bowels, and, by giving relief and health to the child, gives rest to the mother.

mar 1-dawly

WE may look for the annual batch of ill-natured comments, and the usual grinding of the "outrage mill," on the part of some of our Northern brethren, on the memorial services in this State yesterday. We may deplore their spirit, but have no denunciation for them, or insults for their dead. The time has passed when the heroism displayed in the late war can be weighed except in the common scale of American valor; and we pay no tribute to the memory of the soldiers of our own section that we would see withheld from the fallen of the North.

Matthews' A. M. E. Chapel.

The above named chapel will be dedicated Sunday, May 12th, 1878. In the absence of the Bishop the Rev. George D Jimmerson, with the assistance of Revs. J. Horne, A. H. Newton, and others, will conduct the service. They will be met at the door by the officers with key and Bible, at 3 o'clock, P. M. The clergy of the city are invited to attend, and the public in general.

By request of the Stewards and Trustees,

ED. MAY,
J. R. CASWELL,
Secretaries.

Lumsden's "Old North State Cook Stove" still leads the market as the best and cheapest stove. Lumsden makes a specialty of repairing Sewing Machines of any pattern, Guns, Pistols, Locks, &c. All work warranted. He has just received a large lot of mocking and canary bird cages, fly traps, dish covers, fishing tackle, brooms, baskets, and every thing you want in the house furnishing line can be found at Lumsden's, cheaper than such goods were ever sold before.

New Goods Received at

CREECH'S

BY EVERY TRAIN.

I am now receiving my Spring Stock bought within the last ten days in a depressed market after the rush of business was over and goods had fallen. In fact I bought them at hard pan and panic prices, and can safely say that never in the history of the dry goods business have I been better prepared to sell good so uniformly cheap. And so as to give my customers a bird's eye view, I will quote a few prices:

50,000 Yards

NEW AND HANDSOME

SPRING PRINTS,

From 5 to 7 cents.

10,000 Yards New and handsome

PRINTED UNION LAWNS,

At 10 cents, worth 15 cents;

10,000 YARDS PRINTED CORDED LAWNS, at 10 cents, cheap at 15 cents;
